Introduction

St. Aidan's C.B.S. is a Voluntary Catholic Secondary School for boys operating under the Trusteeship of the Irish Christian Brothers. As such it supports the Religious and Educational Philosophy of its Founder Blessed Edmund Ignatius Rice.

This Special Education Needs policy document of St. Aidan's aims to outline the additional educational support for students with Special Educational Needs (SEN). It is written in the context of the Education Act 1998 (amended 2012), and takes account of the Education for Person's with Disabilities Act (EPSEN) published in 2004.

The S.E.N. policy will be reviewed annually and bases its rationale on the principles laid out in the EPSEN Act which state that:

"The education of people with SEN shall take place in an inclusive environment with those who do not have such needs"

"People with SEN shall have the same right to avail of and benefit from, appropriate education as do their peers"

"That people with SEN leave school with the skills necessary to participate, to the level of their capacity, in an inclusive way in the social and economic activities of society and to live independent and fulfilled lives."

(EPSEN Act 2004)

- The Special Needs Assistant plays an important role in the health and safety of the student and in their social, emotional and educational development. The wellbeing and care needs of the students should also be a priority.

4. Provision for Resource Students

(The following provisions are used to support students with S.E.N.)

I. Irish Exemptions

Students who have an Irish exemption at Junior Cycle may be timetabled for Resource at this time depending on their individual requirements. If a student does not require resource they will remain in their timetabled Irish class.

At Senior Cycle while Resource support may lessen, provision is reviewed on an ongoing basis. This includes supervised study and or subject support.

(Irish exemption criteria and procedure circular M10/94).

II. Withdrawals

The SEN department may withdraw students from other subject areas in consultation with management, the respective subject department teachers and with parental permission. In some cases students with SEN may be on reduced timetables to facilitate their Special Education Needs. These students may attend Resource during these periods on their timetable.

III. Team Teaching

If possible a collaborative team teaching approach to learning support may take place.

IV Whole School Approach

The school is committed to a policy of inclusion and every year SEN information is shared with staff, formally through presentations, meetings and information on staff common, and informally liaising with staff. This is essential for teaching and learning.

5. Identification of pupils with Special Educational Needs

The procedures for the identification of pupils with special educational needs include the following:

I. Information from parents/guardians

Parents/guardians have an obligation, on enrolment, to make known to the school authorities details of any previously diagnosed disability or special educational need and to make available to the school reports of examinations or assessment tests which have been previously carried out.

II. Liaison with the Primary School/other Second Level school

Parents/guardians are required to sanction the release of any relevant information from the Primary School on transfer.

Members of the SEN department visit the 'feeder' Primary schools to discuss the learning needs of incoming students with S.E.N. The purpose of these visits is to acquire a thorough knowledge of these incoming students. There will be ongoing interaction with these schools, where needed.

Students transferring from another second level school are required to sanction the release of any relevant information to this school on transfer.

III. Initial testing

Enrolling students are required to take an initial assessment (CAT) for the purpose of profiling students. This group test will be supplemented, where necessary, by individual testing following entry in the autumn. These tests will inform possible candidates for Learning Support.

IV. Staff referrals

These are an important means of identification. The professional judgement of staff members working on a daily basis with students is an essential method of identification. Additionally, information from assessments given by the guidance counsellor assists in identifying students.

V. Consultation with appropriate support agencies

Relevant information may be available from other sources that will assist the school in identifying learning needs and making appropriate provision.

6. Involvement of Parents

The school regards the partnership with parents as paramount and is always open and responsive to expressions of concern made by parents.

Parents are invited to attend meetings concerning their son's progress.

The subject teacher, form tutor, year head, career guidance teacher, Special Education Teacher and management are available by appointment to meet with parents regarding any area of concerns they may have regarding their sons. They are encouraged to discuss any issues with the school at the earliest opportunity.

The school recognises its responsibility under Section 14 of the Education Act for Persons with Special Educational Needs Act 2004 to:

- Inform parents of their child's additional needs and how they are being met.
- Consult with parents in regard to the making of all decisions of a significant nature concerning their child's education and invite them to participate in such decisions.

The Special Needs Department communicate with the parents of students with special educational needs as necessary. This contact can take the form of a meeting, telephone call, email or text.

A professional relationship and trust is built up between the S.E.N. department, S.E.N. students and parents.

Students receive school reports in the school year, following examinations. There is one parent-teacher meeting each year where parents have the opportunity to meet with all teachers. The Special Needs Teachers may be available at this time, or have an alternative arrangement with parents/guardians. SEN Teachers are also in attendance at the open evening in September.

7. Involvement of Students

- The School believes that achievements are maximised when students take ownership of their learning.
- The SEN department fully involves students in discussions concerning their disability. Students in the Senior Cycle are particularly encouraged to adopt a proactive and independent approach to their studies.

The IEP/SSF consists of:

- Priority learning needs
- Relevant information concerning student's SEN
- Appropriate teaching approaches and interventions
- Short/medium term learning goals

Students who may meet the criteria for RACE will be tested by the SEN department. If they are found to meet the criteria, an application will be made to the State Examinations Commission. Students who meet the criteria of the State Examinations Commission will be accommodated by the school for State Exams as necessary.

Students provided with reasonable accommodation for the Junior Certificate, are guaranteed reasonable accommodation at Leaving Certificate.

Communication, involvement and dissemination

The S.E.N. working group worked together to review this policy. A process of collaboration followed involving the policy co-ordinator, school management, staff, students' council, and the parents' council.
